Identifying common property in a strata scheme: update on common Memoranda

Land and Property Information, a division of the Department of Finance and Services is officially registered in the Australian Business Register and also registered for GST. Its ABN is 84 104 377 806.

LPI has recorded an additional Memorandum in the land titles system, providing another option for strata owners and Owners Corporations wishing to precisely identify common property within their strata scheme.

The latest Memorandum has been developed by the Strata Industry Working Group in response to industry feedback on the Memorandum recorded by LPI in October 2011 as Memorandum No AG520000.

The new Memorandum has been recorded by LPI as Memorandum No AG600000. It may be more appropriate for use by existing strata schemes than Memorandum No AG520000, which in turn is more suited to new strata schemes.

The full text of the principles and provisions set out in Memorandum No AG600000 is attached to this Circular.

The full text of principles and provisions in Memorandum No AG520000 is attached to LPI Circular 2011/07.

It is recommended that strata owners and Owners Corporations seek professional advice on whether either option is suitable for their strata scheme.

All of the principles and provisions of each Memorandum are reproduced in LPI Circulars. It is not necessary to purchase copies of the Memoranda as recorded by LPI unless these are required for legal purposes eg for attachment to a contract of sale where one of the Memoranda has been adopted by the strata scheme. In such cases copies may be purchased through LPI's network of authorised information brokers or from the LPI Online Shop at <http://shop.lands.nsw.gov.au/wps/portal/lpma/lpi-shop/searches/dealing-image>.

Adopting the Memorandum

More information on how to adopt either of the Memoranda is available in the Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) section of LPI's website: see How can an Owners' Corporation identify common property in a strata scheme?
